REPORT OF THE FIRE WARDS

During 1952 we answered 25 alarms, of which 3 were test runs. The number of chimney fires has been reduced very satisfactorily to 4 during this past year. The hazardous conditions at the town dump have resulted in 7 calls to that location, which have been expensive. Better control here would be very desirable.

The fire department is in good condition and we appreciate loyalty and good service extended, not only by members of the company, but particularly by the employees of the Telephone Company whose co-operation in operating the fire alarm system adds so much to the effectiveness of our department.

Respectfully submitted,
LESLEY G. BROWN,
GEORGE K. RIPLEY,
WILLIAM J. PRARIO,
Fire Wards.

WAR MEMORIAL RECREATION PROGRAM REPORT

Another season has been completed with many new additions and accomplishments.

Thanks to Mr. Russell McLaughlin, Troy now has two New Hampshire State swimming champions. Mr. Ralph Staples added an Arts and Crafts and Nature program which gave several Troy children an opportunity to do things which would not have been available to them in any other way.

Additions to the Sand Dam equipment were 1 canoe and 2 row boats. These fit well into the water safety program.

The Sand Dam property itself had a tremendous face lifting. A gift of $200.00 from Mr. Henry Lloyd, a summer resident was matched by gifts from local town folks and organizations. For this $400.00 the C. V. Rossi Construction company put in 45 hours with a large bulldozer and pan but was not able to finish the new ballfield. Mr. Felix Tommilla finished the ballfield with his light equipment and trucks. His bill of $338.00 was paid by Dr. Samuel Paul. Mr. Lloyd then made a further offer to pay for a backstop if the labor was donated. Heavy gauge playground fence material was erected on creosoted telephone poles. The poles were gifts from Mr. Roy Hale from the Aldrich farm and the Derry Electric Company. Mr. Lloyd made good his promise and footed the bill for $217.50 for the fence material.

Many people donated time and trucks for raking the new ballfield and spreading grass seed and hay for mulching. The boys of the 7th and 8th grades should be specially mentioned for their work in collecting and spreading six truck loads of hay.

The War Memorial Program Committee has been discussing various ways and means of improving the program. Any suggestions from any of the townspeople would be welcomed.

The Committee.

WAR MEMORIAL SUMMER PROGRAM TOWN REPORT

The War Memorial summer program, once again, has had a very successful season. Reliable figures show that this program has provided recreation for some 4,000 people during its eight week existence. This figure is based on 100 people a day for 40 days. It also includes people who visited the area every day and different does not mean 4,000 people. It should be noted here that many parents took advantage of this area and were very welcome. There were also inquiries concerning adult swimming classes.

For seven weeks, every Tuesday we were visited by the children of Marlboro. A bus load of some fifty children would come, with lunch in hand, and spend the day participating in healthful outdoor activities with the children of Troy. These children conducted themselves as ladies and gentlemen and we highly recommend that they be invited to our area this coming year.

A new innovation was added to our swimming program in the form of an effective swimming team. This team, composed of Gwendolyn Hurst, Harold Johnson, Bobby and Raymond Carlson, journeyed to the Rock Rimmon Pool in Manchester and proceeded to walk away with many honors. All four qualified to participate in the final events by eliminating some of the states best swimmers. When the final tally was added, we realized our team stood at the top. Bobby Carlson took second place in the ten to fourteen year old class and Harold Johnson placed second in the men's backstroke. This type of teamwork should be encouraged as it contributes worth while experience to those participating and adds incentive to others.

A program of leather work, metal craft, and other craft work was started this summer at the Scout Club-house. This proved to be very popular and should be carried out again next summer.

A start on a Nature Museum was made with the children collecting, labeling, and displaying the specimens. This was very worthwhile as it gave the children further ideas of the world around them.

We had a program of basketball, softball, baseball, and volleyball. Our baseball team played in Marlboro and in Keene. At the playground other organized games were used to take care of all the children.

The special events held this summer were as follows: an all day track and field day, with over one hundred children participating; a trip up Mount Monadnock with twenty-five children; and a bicycle rodeo which was held on July 25, 1952. The purpose of this rodeo was to promote bicycle safety. Prizes and trophies were given to those worthy. The bicycle rodeo should be continued in future years.

Special thanks should be given to Mr. Clinton Royea for the use of his bus by the baseball teams.

The children of Troy and the staff of this program thank Dr. Paul for the opportunities and guidance that he has rendered in their behalf.

The staff wishes to thank all those who helped make this program a success. It would be impossible to mention the many good people who contributed their time and services to this program.

Respectfully submitted,

RUSSELL A. McLAUGHLIN,
RALPH STAPLES,
WHALEN DUNN.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF THE TROY HIGH SCHOOL

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my second report as principal of the Troy High School.

In presenting this report I wish to stress the major activities in our program which are new and have proven of value in providing a fuller and more interesting year for the pupils of Troy.

Relatively few changes were made in the teaching staff during the past year. Mr. Elmer Pierce retired as Shop teacher and was replaced by Mr. Leonard Littlefield. Mr. Gordon Decato and Mr. Russell McLaughlin joined the Junior High faculty. The stability of the teaching staff is a healthy condition for it enables us to pursue some long range planning and programming.

The High School faculty has been meeting regularly to discuss problems concerning the program and much work has been done in the field of group and individual guidance. Some other important developments arising from these meetings have been a well integrated film program, a club program reaching all of the pupils through one of the following clubs: Science Club, Knitting Club, Crafts Club, Photography Club, or Chorus. The annual Halloween Festival, a greater success than last year, depended largely upon the cooperation and effort of the teaching staff.

The Student Council resumed its place in the program this year and the calendar of school activities was completed during the early part of the year to the satisfaction of all classes. The council has joined the State and National Associations of Student Councils and last fall took an active part in the statewide meeting. The group recently discussed and debated methods of providing better assembly programs and a fuller activity program and offered a Student Activity Association plan to the student body who accepted it with over a two thirds majority vote.

I am particularly proud of our War Bond Savings Program which has been exceptionally successful. This program was suggested by Mrs. Harvey Gaseau as a good activity to provide much practical experience for her Junior Business classes. Under her able guidance, the sale of Savings Stamps each Friday has become an ideal savings plan.

We have been working towards a special reading program for the small number of pupils who need the extra help in this all important subject and this fall a regular program called Special Reading was introduced. The services of a special reading supervisor are shared with Marlboro and already there is ample evidence to predict that this will become a permanent part of our program.

We are experiencing our second year under the two shift program. I am glad to report that the Junior High program is operating exceptionally well under the circumstances due mainly to the fine teaching and guidance of Mr. Decato and Mr. McLaughlin. They will be the first to admit, however, that this arrangement is by far from a fair treatment for our children. Mr. Decato voluntarily offered to work mornings with physical education for the group and this has helped their morale considerably. Also providing a great deal to the program has been the time and energy donated by Mr. Charles McGinness for dancing instruction. He has come into the school faithfully each Friday afternoon offering instruction in the waltz, foxtrot, and square dancing.

During the past year I have had the privilege and pleasure of attending all of the School Board meetings and have watched, and sometimes helped, a hard working board and superintendent seek the answers to our local problems. Not only have their problems been multiplied by our crowded conditions, but they have also been burdened with developing a proposal which will eliminate the plight we are in. I have come to know the problems better and I have come to know the pupils better and

I am convinced more than ever that we are constricting beyond repair the potential of our community.

ATHLETICS

We are restricted by space and lack of proper facilities here at Troy but never-the-less our interscholastic athletic program does provide a great deal for our pupils. We have our winter program which consists entirely of basketball. We use the Town Hall for our practice and for most of our home games. Of the seventy high school pupils enrolled this year we have approximately half participating in our basketball program; this includes six cheer leaders who have done a fine job this year. I believe a program of this nature provides much more for the pupils than just a chance to demonstrate skill with a ball. It is providing them with an organized daily activity which they enjoy, for there are daily practice sessions for both boys and girls. We cannot overlook the proven fact that a strong and healthy body does much to insure a strong and healthy mind. Providing activities which pupils enjoy does much to help the regular class room atmosphere of learning.

We play a total of 18 basketball games playing on a home and home basis with other schools of our same size. Because half of our games are played at other schools it provides an excellent chance for interchange of ideas and the making of many friendships between schools.

In the spring we have baseball for the boys and softball for the girls and play games with the schools we played in basketball with the exception of a few. Again the major importance is not in the playing and winning of games but in the daily experiences of physical exercise and cooperative activity.

We are reaching about 50% of our school population with our present program but because a person has the athletic ability it should not mean that he is the one to receive the benefits of our program, whereas a person with a lesser ability has no form of physical education. We are neglecting those who probably could benefit most for we lack the facilities for a regular physical education program. During the summer months the War Memorial Program does a fine job in this area but we need badly an improved school program.

Respectfully submitted,
CORRIDON TRASK JR.,
Principal.

ELEMENTARY REPORT

In the primary grades (1-3) the main objective is that of developing basic reading skills. Classes are divided into groups, allowing each child to work at the group level which best meets his needs. Much work is done in phonics and this proves of much value in silent reading.

In the second grade, building a vocabulary and reading for comprehension is a continuous task throughout the year. Reading is worked into every subject from arithmetic through the social studies. The school board and superintendent have been very cooperative in supplying our needs.

Grades one and two were pleasantly surprised upon returning to school after the Christmas Vacation, to find the old desks and chairs removed and new furniture in their place. Being of the movable type the new chairs and desks allow much more activity in the rooms.

We are using the Kittle Series for our writing in the elementary grades. This system uses the manuscript writing until the middle of grade three when the change is made to cursive (long hand).

When school opened in the fall, the State Library Bookmobile service was introduced in the grades. The bookmobile visits the school every two months leaving about twenty five books per grade. The books are of a variety of choices which the teachers and pupils choose as supplementary reading material. The teachers feel that this has boosted the interest in reading and furnishes much added information to the pupils.

A School Patrol has been established this year to provide self government for the pupils during their recess and noon hour activity periods. This program under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Glenday is doing much to provide pupils with responsibilities as well as insure orderly conduct.

We have used many fine films from the University of New Hampshire Film Library which have helped make our social studies program more interesting. We regret that room isn't available to show films to everyone at one sitting for much time is wasted when we have to show a film several times. We need an auditorium very badly.

Respectfully submitted,
ANNE MCGINNESS

ART REPORT

The elementary grades are gaining confidence in their own individual creative powers. They are enjoying experiences, supervised but not commanded, that they might not have in a lesser situation. The sixth grade, for instance, has been intensely interested and active working this year with sheet aluminum, paper sculpture, charcoal drawing, watercolor painting, and some very good linoleum block printing. The expressed needs of the teachers in other grades, and also the requests of the children themselves direct the trend of art teaching.

After school classes are held by request of pupils in groups, and also when some ask for extra individual instruction.

In the total program, grades one through twelve, we have done weaving in wool as well as with paper; drawing in pen, pencil and charcoal; ceramics; snow sculpture; clay modelling; enlargement of pictures; block printing; lettering and poster work; chip-carving; and other techniques according to ages, ability and willingness.

Recently the state director of Art and the head of the Art Department at UNH paid us a visit. They looked with wonder and amazement when shown the Art Dept. here: Twelve Lockers. The program means so much to a majority of pupils in Troy—many of them generously talented in the arts—that it deserves a room well-equipped for more efficient work, for greater service to the children and the community.

Respectfully submitted,
ROSE VESELAK LAND

HOME ECONOMICS REPORT

The Home Economics Department at Troy High School this year is offering a course in Foods and Nutrition. The students are taught to prepare and serve nutritious, tasty meals with an eye to economy.

The high school girls have become members of the state and national branch of the Future Homemakers Association of America. As a group they attended a fall meeting held on the campus of Keene Teacher's College. They exchanged ideas with home economics students and leaders from all over the New Hampshire state.

For three weeks the 8th grade girls took a course in shop with Mr. Littlefield while the boys of the 8th grade received a course in Foods dealing chiefly with party foods. At the conclusion of the course the boys entertained the girls and Mr. Littlefield at an informal party where they did all of the planning cooking, and entertaining.

I wish to thank the Troy School Board and Mr. Bowlby our superintendent for their cooperation in providing sinks, stoves, and cabinets which really make our program much improved.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. HAMILTON,
Home Economics Teacher.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

There was an old woman
Who lived in a shoe
She had so many children
She didn't know what to do . . .

is very descriptive of the school condition Troy faces today, and will continue to face until the citizens of the community stop putting off a decision which will solve the problem.

For the past few years, one expedient after another has been used to house the increasing pupil enrollment. The lunch-room was divided into a kitchen, cafeteria, home economics and art room. The basement corridor became a lunch room, a coat closet is now the principal's office, another coat closet is a reading room and a third closet is the nurse's room.

The school now operates on a two-shift basis from 8 A.M. until 5:15 P.M. and still the building does not have adequate space for either the educational program or the pupils.

Faced with a first grade class of 54 pupils in September 1953; the school board invited parents to enter under-aged children in 1952. About ten younger children were accepted to form a beginning group of 38 pupils, and thus next year's grade one was reduced to about 44 pupils, roughly 14 more children in the grade than good educational standards recommend.

With every nook and cranny now filled with children, it looks as though the old lady would finally have to decide on sending some of her children elsewhere, or get a bigger shoe in Troy.

The hopes that the Ripley Homestead could be converted into a two classroom elementary school faded when it was found that the costs would be much higher than anticipated and the room sizes below standard. The possibility of a cooperative school to solve Troy's problems has definitely faded from the picture, and Troy now must find its own solution based upon a building program or high school attendance at Keene. Waiting will only increase the problem rather than solve it. Meanwhile, the years go by and the educational advantages lost to the children of the community can never be recaptured.

CHARLES L. BOWLBY,
Supt. of Schools.

TROY SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Troy School District continues to be faced with a severe enrollment problem and inadequate facilities for a program consistent with present-day requirements.

There are two alternatives to our present unsatisfactory program :

PLAN I Send to Keene High School, Grades 10, 11, 12, and continue to operate in our existing plant a nine grade elementary program.

The extra cost of this plan is as follows :

Tuition, 56 pupils @ $280	$15,680 00
Transportation estimated	2,750 00
	<hr/>	$18,430 00

Reduction of costs at Troy High School :

Instruction	$6,900 00
Books, supplies, etc.	1,760 00
Transportation	700 00
	<hr/>	$9,360 00

Additional annual cost for Plan I	$9,070 00
-----------------------------------	------------

PLAN II Construct an addition to our present school plant, consisting of two class rooms, gymnasium, auditorium, and kitchen.

The estimated cost of this proposed addition is $130,000, which, if raised through a bond issue at 2½% interest, payable in 20 years, would cost the school district approximately $8,400 per year. (continued on page 102)

PROPOSED ADDITION TO TROY SCHOOL

Extra heat, light, water	1,500 00
Extra supplies, etc.	500 00

Additional annual cost for Plan II	$11,900 00

Cost to taxpayers, in terms of tax rate per $1,000 assessed valuation, for our present program compared to Plan I and Plan II are as follows:

	Net Approx. Annual Cost	Approx. Tax Rate
Present program	$60,000 00	$33 30
Plan I	69,070 00	38 40
